

I think the public should be able to pick and choose the channels they want on their cable television. There are many channels we get that we do not want, and some we don't get but would like to. An a la carte option would be greatly appreciated.